An Herbal Spray to Soothe Irritated Throat Tissues

Sore throats aren't any fun for tiny tots, toddlers and on-the-go kids of today's world. When a child's throat hurts, it's no wonder he or she becomes fussy, irritable, and downright cranky.

Often, a parent doesn't know what to do to reduce throat inflammation, so they go to the pediatrician or family practitioner, expecting the doctor to "do something" to magically make their child's problem go away, therefore the doctor often feels pushed to resort to antibiotics, even when he suspects a virus, not bacteria, is to blame. It's a well known fact that over-use of antibiotics has produced a whole scale resistance to antibiotics. Besides, antibiotic use often results in other side effects and health problems.

Today, parents have to turn to other solutions to help their children when they become ill, and to protect their overall health.

Now, there's a natural way to soothe the savage sore throat for infants, toddlers and older children with Children's Liquid Throat Lozenge™ by Cedar Bear Naturales®.
