Fight Intestinal Parasites Naturally - With Herbs!

In our modern society, we often like to think that our children are immune to such unpleasant things as internal parasites, but invasive organisms don't care whose children they are or where they live. Because of increases in world-wide travel, importation of foods, personal pets, weakened immune and digestive systems and other factors, parasitic problems have become intestinal parasite problems happen to most children at some time in their lives. When and how often parasite infestations occur depends on such factors as where the child lives, personal, family and community hygiene habits, pets, travels, and outdoor activities the child participates in.

While the most serious of parasite caused illnesses are most commonly found in third-world country conditions, many chronic health problems may be caused or exacerbated by the presence of some form of parasite, including many forms of digestive system problems, chronic lack of energy and fatigue, food allergies, and many respiratory problems.

Cedar Bear Naturales® 100% whole herb Children's Parasite Cleanse helps neutralize and expel unwanted intestinal and systemic parasites. It has a stimulating digestive action that therapeutically changes and moderates the environment of the digestive system, allowing beneficial flora to flourish that discourage parasite infestations from occurring. This formula is high in iodides and essential oil components that are known to moderate and/or eliminate parasites. It can be used as a preventative as well as for reducing active parasite activity.
